1. The Serendipity bar unit by Visionnaire is a mix of steel and marble in a variety of different finishes. It features a geometric diagonal design that creates a bright textural look. Designed by Alessandro La Spada

3. Almo is Daytona's take on a contemporary marble-topped occasional table. Its geometric lines create a sense of balance, while the surfaces showcase luxury materials and finishes, not least the Port Black marble top and satin-finish brass structure

2. Ripple is a lighting system designed by BIG with Artemide. It not only lights but is also sound-absorbent to create a sense of acoustic comfort. The lamp is modular

4. Grimilde is a light, clean console with a metal structure and lacquered wooden surfaces and various containers as well as a removable mirror. It can work as either a desk or a make-up table. The design is by Nicola Grisonda for Mentemano

5. The Desco table by Amura has a wonderfully sculptural feel. Painted metal bases support a multi-layered surface in antique recycled oak veneer of between 80 and 350 years old
